In order to expedite publication of this edition of the Directory, only responses received prior to January 15, 198 included. We regret that certain institutions were not updated and these have been so designated in the Directory. F explanations can be found in the Methodology section of the Introduction.

This publication was prepared jointly by the Eligibility and Agency Evaluation Staff (EAES) of the Office of Postse ary Education (OPE) and the University and College Surveys and Studies Branch (UCSSB) of the Division of Postsecc and Vocational Education Statistics (DPVES) of the National Center for Education Statistics (NCES). EAES ha responsibility for the certification of the eligibility and accreditation of institutions for inclusion in this Directory; U for all other aspects of the survey on which the publication is based.

We would like to express our appreciation, especially, to the officals of the institutions of higher education whose resp made the Directory possible and to the coordination officials of the State education agencies who assisted in the collection and the resolution of inconsistencies.

This publication was made possible by the cooperative endeavors of large numbers of people in the Education Statistics and in the Office of Postsecondary Education. In particular, we are grateful to Mr. Joseph man, of the Eligibility and Agency Evaluation Staff (Department of Education) and Mrs. Margaret Hansley, c who provided certification of the eligibility and accreditation of institutions for inclusion in this Directory.

Survey processing was completed under contract by Advanced Technology, Inc., Reston, VA.

INTRODUCTION

Criteria for Listing in This Directory

his Directory lists institutions in the United States and its tlying areas (American Samoa, Guam, Northern Mariana lands, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, and the Trust Ter- ory of the Pacific Islands) that meet the following quirements:

) They are legally authorized to offer and are offering at least a 1-year program of college-level studies leading toward a degree;

) They have submitted the information required for listing; and ) They meet one of the following criteria for listing:

A. The institution is accredited at the college level by an agency that has been listed as nationally recognized by the Secretary of Education;[1]

B. The institution holds preaccredited status at the college level with a designated nationally recognized accrediting agency;[2]

C. If the institution is public or nonprofit, it has qualified under the "three-institutional-certification method" established by Section 1201 (a) (5) (B) of the Higher Education Act of 1965. By this method, the Secretary of Education verifies that not fewer than three accredited college-level institutions have accepted and do accept an unaccredited institution's credits, upon transfer, as though coming from an institution accredited by a nationally recognized accrediting agency.

'College-level" means a postsecondary associate, bac- alaureate, postbaccalaureate, or rabbinical education rogram.

nstitutions listed in the Directory are asked periodically to eestablish their eligiblity for listing.

Accreditation

each State, but institutions of higher education operate w considerable autonomy and self-governance. Therefore, U educational institutions vary widely in the character a quality of their programs.

A unique feature of U.S. educational practice is the proc known as accreditation, which includes self-study by educational institution, coupled with peer evaluation schools and programs. This process operates through tionally recognized accrediting agencies and associations a certain State bodies. These agencies have adopted crite reflecting the qualities of a sound educational program a they have developed procedures for evaluating institutio or programs to determine whether or not they are operati at basic levels of quality. The agencies also seek to stimul continued educational improvement to help assure that credited status may serve as an authentic index of edu tional quality.

Nationally Recognized Accrediting Agencies and Associations

The U.S. Secretary of Education is required by statute publish a list of nationally recognized accrediting agenc and associations which the Secretary has determined to reliable authorities concerning the quality of education training offered by educational institutions or programs order to carry out this recognition function, the Secret has established criteria for listing nationally recognized crediting agencies and associations. The Advisory Comm tee on Accreditation and Institutional Eligibility assists Secretary in determining which accrediting bodies should listed. Accrediting bodies that achieve initial recognition reviewed at least every 4 years thereafter.

Regional Accrediting Commissions—Institutions with lib arts and general programs and, in some cases, those w special programs may be accredited by an accrediting co mission of one of six regional associations of colleges a schools. Regional accreditation applies to the entire insti tion. It signifies that each of the constituent parts of institution is contributing to the achievement of the inst tion's objectives, although not necessarily all on the sa

National Institutional and Specialized Accrediting Bodies—Specialized accreditation normally applies to evaluation of programs, departments or schools which usually are parts of a total collegiate or other postsecondary institution. The unit accredited may be as large as a college or school within a university or as small as a curriculum within a discipline. Most of the specialized accrediting agencies review units within a postsecondary institution which is accredited by one of the regional accrediting commissions. However, certain of the specialized accrediting agencies do accredit professional schools and other specialized vocational or other postsecondary institutions which are independent in their operations. Thus, a specialized or programmatic accrediting agency may also function in the capacity of an institutional accrediting agency. In addition, a number of specialized accrediting agencies accredit educational programs within non-

Nationally Recognized State Agency—The following agency is listed by the U.S. Secretary of Education for its registration (accreditation) of collegiate degree-granting programs or curriculums offered by institutions of higher education.

NY	New York State Board of Regents

"3IC" indicates that the institution qualified for listing via the three-institutional certification procedure.

The U.S. Department of Education does not accredit, recommend, or approve any school or educational institution.

Preaccredited Status

The award of preaccreditation status to an institution or program signifies that the accrediting agency or association has determined that the institution or program is progressing toward accreditation. It does not guarantee that the educational institution or program will be accredited. Certain accrediting agencies and associations may award preaccreditation status to an institution or program that is not fully operational.

The U.S. Secretary of Education recognizes certain preaccreditation statuses established by the nationally recognized accrediting agencies and associations. In order for a preaccreditation status to be listed as recognized by the Secretary, an accrediting agency or association must demonstrate that it uses criteria and procedures for the award of preaccredited status that are appropriately related to those used for award of accreditation status.

The regional accrediting commissions listed in this Dire

Arrangement of Data

Institutions are listed alphabetically under the State in wh they are located. A branch of an institution is listed a separate unit following the parent institution. When th are two or more branches, each is listed alphabetically. Wh an institution comprises two or more campuses reporti directly to a central administration, the campuses are lis in alphabetical order. Generally, components of mu campus institutions are subsumed under a "central offic thus, an identification code, as well as name and addr information, is provided for the institution as a whole a for the individual campuses.

Institutions that are part of a system are grouped alph betically immediately following the name and system off information. If a system requested other than an alphabeti listing, the request was honored. For example, a system th has universities, 4-year colleges, and junior colleges may ha requested an alphabetical listing within each level of offe ing. The name of each branch of an institution, or each i stitution within a system of institutions, is preceded by asterisk (*).

In all surveys and publications related to the Higher Edu tion General Information Survey (HEGIS), institutional s tems, multi-campus institutions, main campuses, and bran campuses are defined as follows:

Institutional System. A complex of two or more institutio of higher education, each separately organized or indepe dently administered, under the control of a single admin trative body.

Multi-Campus Institution. An organization resembling institutional system, but clearly designated as a single i stitution with either of two organizational structures: (1) institution having two or more campuses responsible to central administration (which central administration may may not be located on one of the administratively equal ca puses) or (2) an institution having a main campus with o or more branch campuses.

Main Campus. In those institutions comprised of a ma of the central administrative office.)

Branch Campus. A campus of an institution of higher education which is located in a community different from that of its parent institution, that is, beyond a reasonable commuting distance from the main campus of the parent institution. To be considered a branch campus, rather than an extension center, the educational activities at the location must be organized on a relatively permanent basis (i.e., have a relatively permanent administration) and include course offerings for one or more complete college-level programs of at least 1 full year.

Explanation of Data

FICE Code Number

The Federal Interagency Committee on Education (FICE) code number is listed for each institution. This is an unstructured number used for statistical purposes that is unique to each institution. Except as indicated below, it will remain as the institutional identification number for the life of the institution. Should the institution cease to exist, the number will be inactivated.

The primary function of the FICE code number is the precise identification of a particular institution of higher education. In addition, for purposes of computer records and processing, a FICE code number is assigned to the aggregate or totality of a multi-campus institution or an institutional system. The FICE code number is known (somewhat imprecisely) as the "all-campus" number for a multi-campus institution or the "all-institution" number for an institutional system. This number permits the National Center for Education Statistics, for analysis purposes, to code aggregate data for multi-campus institutions or systems of institutions. A list of these aggregates and their FICE code numbers are given in Appendix C.

There are apparent, but not real, exceptions to the immutability of the FICE codes. These apparent exceptions occur when institutions acquire or establish new branches, when established branches are closed or lose branch status, or when institutions are assembled into new systems. Some examples of these exceptions follow:

1. An institution has a remotely located component that for many years was not considered a branch. The institution established branch. The old name of the institution now applies both to the old institution and to its new branch. The old FICE code number is now used to designate the main campus (which is actually the quantitative successor to the old institution); but new FICE code numbers are assigned to each of the following: the new branch, the central office, and the institutional "all-campus" aggregate.

3. An institution closes an established branch. The main campus, which will now be a single institution, retains its FICE code number. However, if an established branch loses branch status but is still a component, the now single-campus institution assumes the "all-campus" FICE code.

4. A previously independent institution becomes part of a newly organized system that contains a number of institutions, and the system assumes the name of the previously independent institution. If an analysis of the change demonstrates that historical consistency of statistics will not be served by preserving old FICE code numbers, some units and aggregates of this new system will receive totally new FICE codes, and the old code of the institution will not be used to identify the new system. This will appear to be a change in FICE code; actually it is not since the name now describes a new and different entity. On the other hand, if historical consistency and understanding of the data would be served by preservation of the old FICE code, it may be preserved by having it now designate that part of the system that previously had the old name.

Entity Number

The entity number is a 12-character code assigned by the Department of Education Central Registry System to identify individuals and organizational entities conducting business with the Department and for storage and retrieval of basic information which characterize these entities. It is presented in this Directory as a service to those users of the Higher Education General Information Survey (HEGIS) data who have this 12-character code as their primary identification code. It is shown as verified by the institution as part of the HEGIS Institutional Characteristics Survey.

The entity number is composed of three parts. The first dig is the Identification Code Designator (ICD) prefix: for a

The last two characters, always a letter followed by a number, form the EIN suffix that identifies a particular component of the organizational entity, e.g., branch of an institution.

Date of Establishment

The date of establishment is the year in which the institution came into existence or was chartered. In the event that an organizational change (i.e., merger with another institution) has taken place since that time, the earlier date is used.

Student Body

The sex designation for the student body of each institution or campus included in the Directory is shown as men, women, coeducational, or coordinate (separate colleges for men and women) as reported by the institution.

Several institutions, traditionally for men only or women only and so listed in the Directory, indicated on their reports that, although their enrollments were almost all of one sex, they had an open-door policy for students of either sex. A few added the phrase "on a commuting basis only." Several noted that the reported enrollment included a given number of men or women day students.

Enrollment

The total enrollment of students in each institution or, in the case of multi-campus institutions, in each component is given as of fall 1982. Undergraduate, graduate, first-professional, and unclassified students, both full and part time are included. Excluded are students in noncredit adult education courses; students taking courses at home by correspondence, radio, or television where the courses are not creditable toward a degree or some other formal recognition below the bachelor's degree; students enrolled only for short courses;" auditors; students studying abroad; and students enrolled at a branch campus or extension center of an American institution in a foreign country.

The total enrollment for an institution shown in this Directory was derived from the institution's response to the "Fall Enrollment and Compliance Report of Institutions of Higher Education" which was conducted in fall 1982. Footnotes indicate where enrollment data were imputed by NCES or of such a large proportion of all students that the stude who does not pay the charge is an exception, are include If the amount varies depending upon the class level of t student, subject-matter major, or courses taken, the typi or modal amount is estimated for charges which are quired. Charges which are clearly optional are not include

Control or Affiliation

The control or affiliation of each institution is recorded reported by the institution. Public institutions are th under Federal, State, State-related, local, or State and lo control. Private institutions are reported as independent n profit; organized as profit-making; or affiliated with religious group. Affiliation need not imply financial s port. Provision was made for reporting affiliation with religious groups and an "other" category was provided affiliation not covered by the specified groups named.

The calendar system on which each institut of the above is designated "other."

NCES Classification Structu

In 1981, NCES adopted a new system of cla tions according to the number and type of
ed. All institutions in the HEGIS universe code based on their response to the 1979-80 survey. Each year these assignments are revie most recent degrees information.

In order for an institution to change categori evel education. Specifically, this category includes instituions not considered specialized in which the number of octoral-level degrees granted is less than 30 or in which ewer than 3 doctoral-level programs are offered. In addiion, these institutions must grant a minimum of 30 post-accalaureate degrees (master's, doctor, and first-profesional) and either grant degrees in 3 or more postbacca-aureate programs or, alternatively, have an interdisciplinary rogram at the postbaccalaureate level.

C. General Baccalaureate Institutions—These institutions are haracterized by their primary emphasis on general under-raduate, baccalaureate-level education. They are not signif-cantly engaged in postbaccalaureate education. Included re institutions not considered as specialized and those in which the number of postbaccalaureate degrees granted is ess than 30 or in which fewer than 3 postbaccalaureate level rograms are offered and which either (a) grant baccalaureate degrees in 3 or more program areas, or (b) offer a baccaaureate program in interdisciplinary studies.

D. Specialized Institutions—These are baccalaureate or post-accalaureate institutions characterized by a programmatic mphasis in one area (plus closely related specialties), such s business or engineering. The programmatic emphasis is neasured by the percentage of degrees granted in the pro-ram area. An institution granting over 60 percent of its legrees in one program area, or granting over one-half of ts degrees in one program area and granting degrees in fewer han five baccalaureate program areas, is considered to be a specialized institution. (The U.S. Service Schools are also considered specialized.)

E. 2-Year Institutions—These are institutions that confer at east 75 percent of their degrees and awards for work below
he bachelor's level.

F. Institutions Newly Admitted to HEGIS—These are instituions that have been recently admitted to the Higher Educaion General Information Survey universe (NOT necessariy newly organized). As soon as 2 years of degree and award nformation become available to NCES, these institutions will be reclassified.

Highest Level of Offering

One but less than 4 years—refers to at least 1 but less th 4 years beyond 12th grade; includes junior colleges, co munity colleges, technical institutes, and normal schools fering at least a 1-year program of college-level studies, eit leading to an associate degree or wholly or principally cr itable toward a baccalaureate degree.

Four-or-five-year baccalaureate—includes those institutio offering programs of studies leading to the customa bachelor of arts or bachelor of science degree, requiring least 4 but less than 6 years.

First-professional degree—includes those institutions that fer the academic requirements for selected professions bas on programs that require at least 2 academic years previous college work for entrance and a total of at le 6 years of college work for completion; e.g., medicine (M.D
law (L.L.B., J.D.), theology (B.D., M.Div., Rabbi), dentis
(D.D.S.), veterinary medicine (D.V.M.), osteopathic medici
(D.O.).

Master's—includes those institutions offering the custom first graduate degree, master of arts or master of scie degree in the liberal arts and sciences, or the next deg in the same field after the first-professional degree; e
Master of Science in Surgery (M.S. in Surgery), Master

Doctorate—includes those institutions offering the Ph.D.
its equivalent in any field; e.g., Doctor of Education (Ed.D
Doctor of Juridical Science (S.J.D.), and Doctor of Pub
Health (D.P.H.).

Undergraduate non-degree-granting—includes those inst

Terminal-occupational below bachelor's— refers to programs of at least 2 but less than 4 years beyond high school designed to provide students with knowledge and skills necessary for immediate employment but for which credits are not ordinarily acceptable toward baccalaureate degree programs.

Two-year principally bachelor's creditable—refers to the first 2 years of college work, i.e., the equivalent of the freshman and sophomore years of the lower division of a bachelor's degree program. Such a program may be general or preprofessional; it may serve as the first 2 basic years toward a bachelor's degree in a liberal arts program, in a teacher preparatory program, or in a professional program.

Liberal arts and general—refers to 4- or 5-year baccalaureate or postbaccalaureate degree programs in the liberal arts and sciences. It may also include preprofessional programs (such as prelaw, prelibrary science, presocial work, and premedicine).

Teacher preparatory programs—as used here, must be of at least 4 years duration.

Professional programs—as used here, are separate programs of at least 4 years beyond high school, outside liberal arts and organized around a professionally oriented academic discipline. Included are 4- or 5-year degree programs in agriculture, business administration, engineering, etc., as well as those programs leading to the 6-year-or-more first-professional degree defined in the section on highest level of offering.

Methodology

The request for information to be published in this Directory was included in the Higher Education General Information Survey (HEGIS) package mailed to institutions of higher education or to State agencies that cooperate with the National Center for Education Statistics in data collection, in summer 1983. Copies of the form "Institutional Characteristics of Colleges and Universities" were included in the package sent to those institutions that had not been listed in the Directory in the previous year.
